25X1

1. Before 1 March 1950 Chinese Communist forces on the Indochina border transferred to Vietnamese Communist forces 3,000 light machine guns, 35,000 rifles, 20,000 cases of ammunition and 500 cases of dynamite.* There is a large transfer of arms [] to Indochina on small fishing boats.

2. The Chinese Communists will not attack Hainan from the China mainland; they are attempting to keep a maximum number of Nationalist troops bottled up on Hainan until a full-scale attack on Indochina is logistically possible.

3. [redacted] developing an optimistic view that the Taiwan attack is not due this year unless large amounts of Soviet air and naval supplies are given to the Communists. They estimate that the only action on Taiwan will be light retaliatory air raids within six months.

Comment. These figures appear to be too high.
